In a globalised digital world where human beings are closer than ever, which are the things that unite us all? What makes us feel close to others? What is valuable to us or to humankind? After all, what makes us humans? A feeling, a moment, an idea?

elmur.net within MitOst-Festival, presents a selection of inspiring and reflective videos under theme: 360° Around the Human Factor, creative perspectives on human values. 18 creative citizens coming from 8 different cultures present their audiovisual perspectives by means of 3 screens. A triptic of creative videos proposals willing to inspire us and fill up our imagination, the place where our imagination stores the raw material from which we build up new ideas, solve problems, learn new things or understand reality. 360° Around the Human Factor introduces a total of 21 videos presenting positive, suggestive and reflective perspectives. A visual dialogue about things that paradoxically unite and separate us: values, identity, culture, beliefs, language, prejudices, stereotypes, sight and perception.

What is elmur.net?

elmur.net is a participatory video project which builds an intercultural dialogue in audiovisual format. Citizens inspire citizens sharing in pictures (creative videos) and through a website: ideas, moments, visions and perspectives which help us to imagine an intercultural and positive society. Best video proposals are displayed in public spaces and cultural events around the globe and at the same time are disseminated through social networks, creating a digital and analogue inspirational network.

To cultivate our imagination, critical eye and creative approach (perspectives) towards daily reality by means of the use of contemporary visual arts are the main objectives of this non-profit project.
